Book 8-2

caillou goes to a theme park

Storyteller: Are you two ready for an exciting ride? It's story time. So let's see what Caillou did today. Oh, yes. Today's story is called "Caillou Goes to a Theme Park".

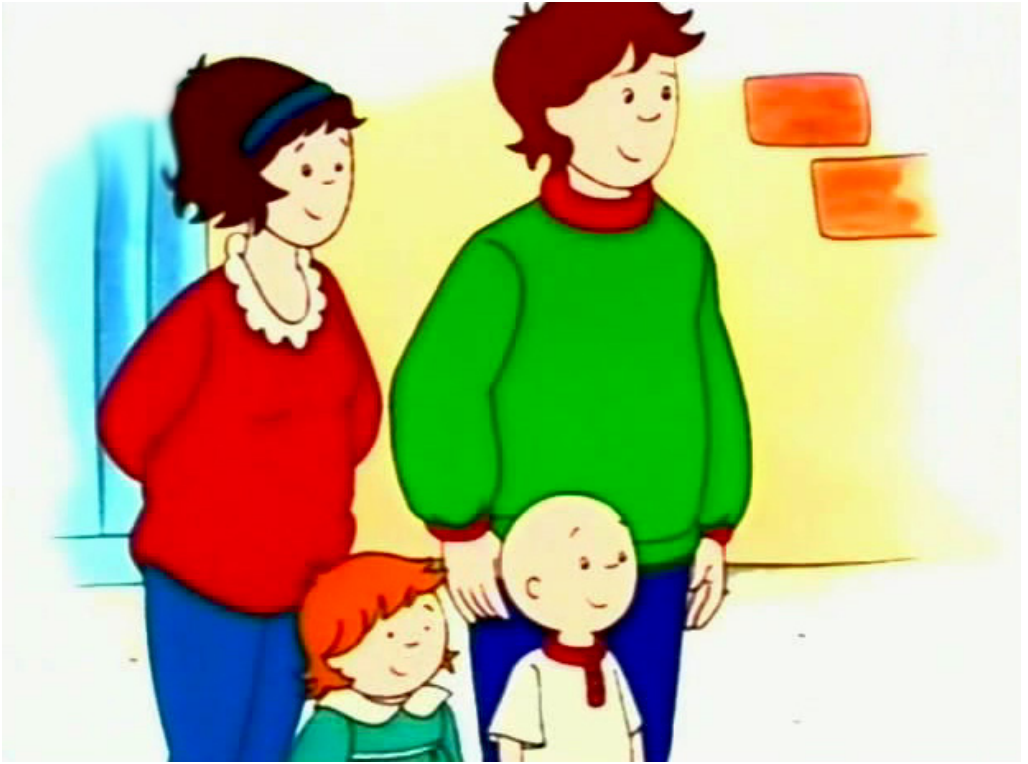

Caillou: Are we there yet, Daddy? Are we there yet, Daddy?

Daddy: Almost.

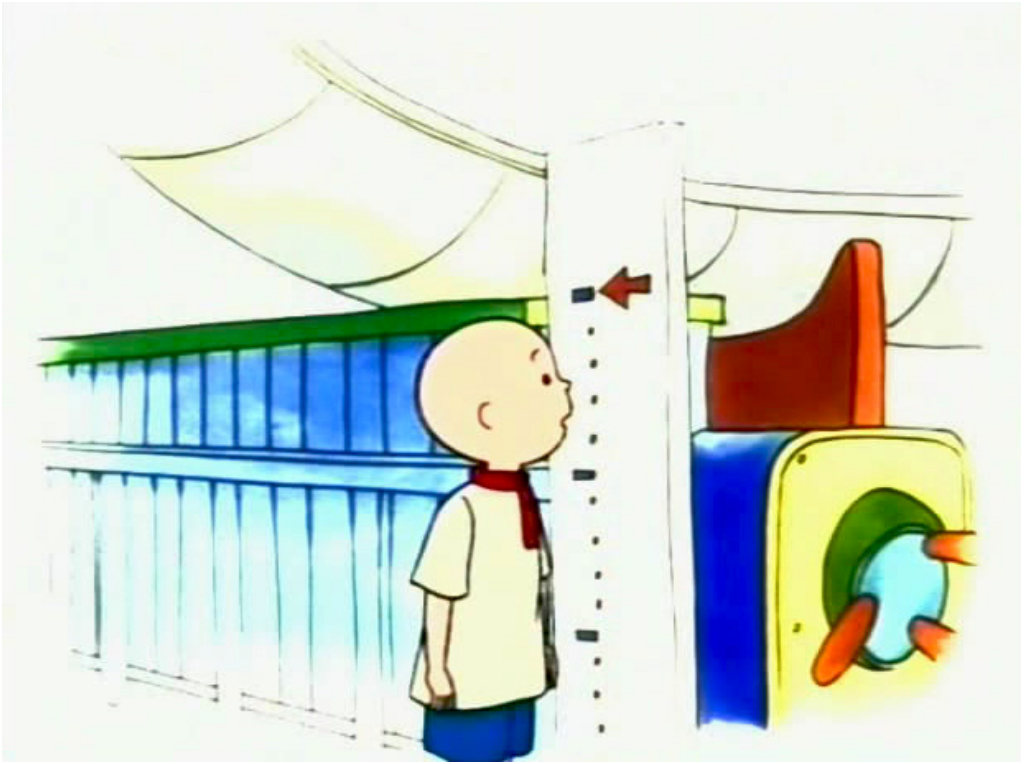

Rosie: Are we there yet?

Daddy: We're here!

Storyteller: Caillou was very excited because this was the first time he'd ever been to a theme park, and he wanted to go on the rides with his Daddy. The first one he chose was called the Niagara Falls River Ride.

Daddy: Stand next to the board, Caillou.

Caillou: What is it?

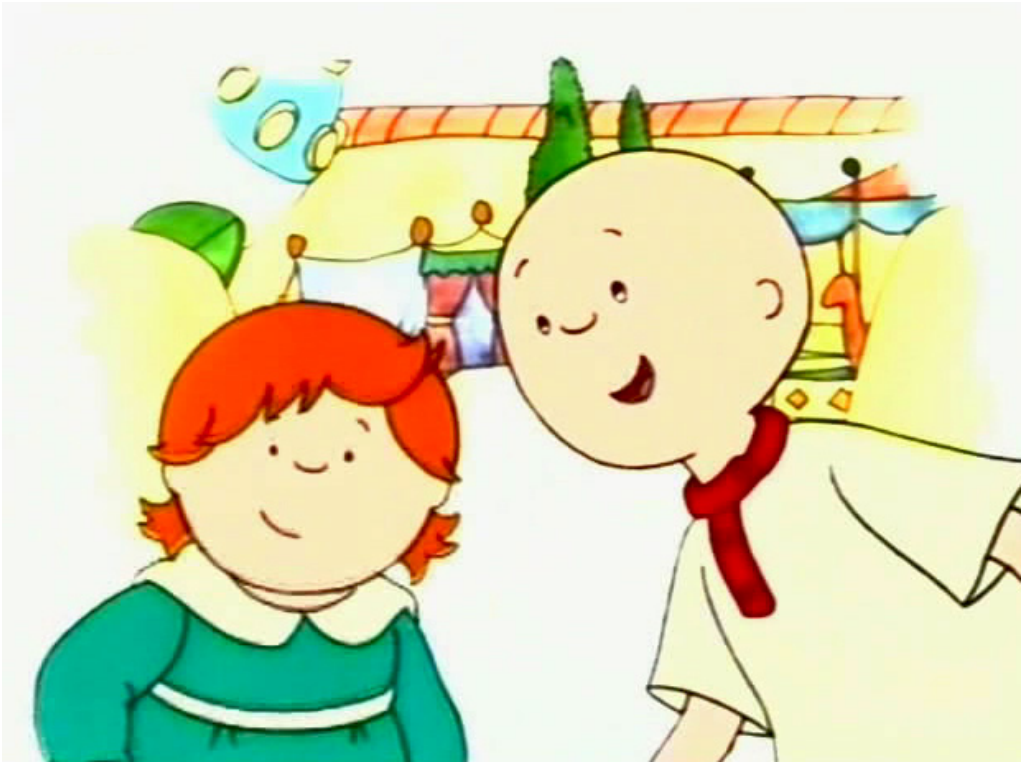

Daddy: You can only go on the ride if you're tall enough. Do you like it?

Caillou: Yes. It's fun.

Daddy: It's a bit scary too, isn't it?

Storyteller: Caillou and his Daddy agreed that the River Ride was fun and a bit scary. Pretty soon, Caillou was having too much fun to be really scared.

Caillou: The water splashed us, Mommy.

Daddy: Who wants dessert?

Caillou: I do. Me.

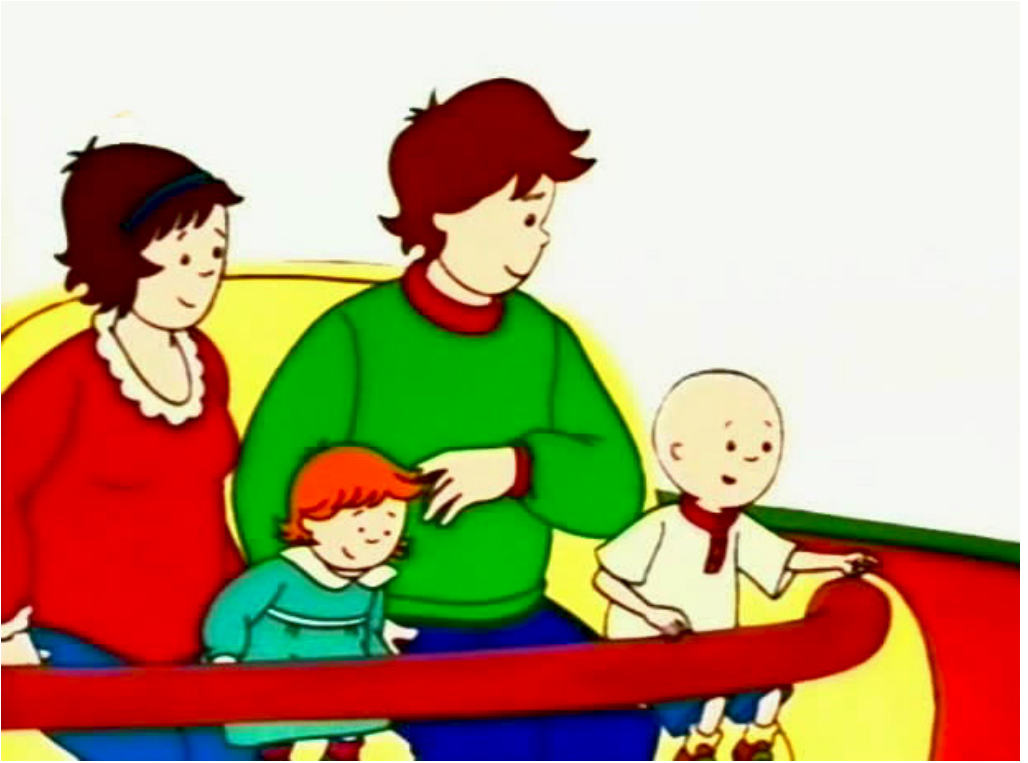

Rosie: I want some.

Caillou: Yummy!

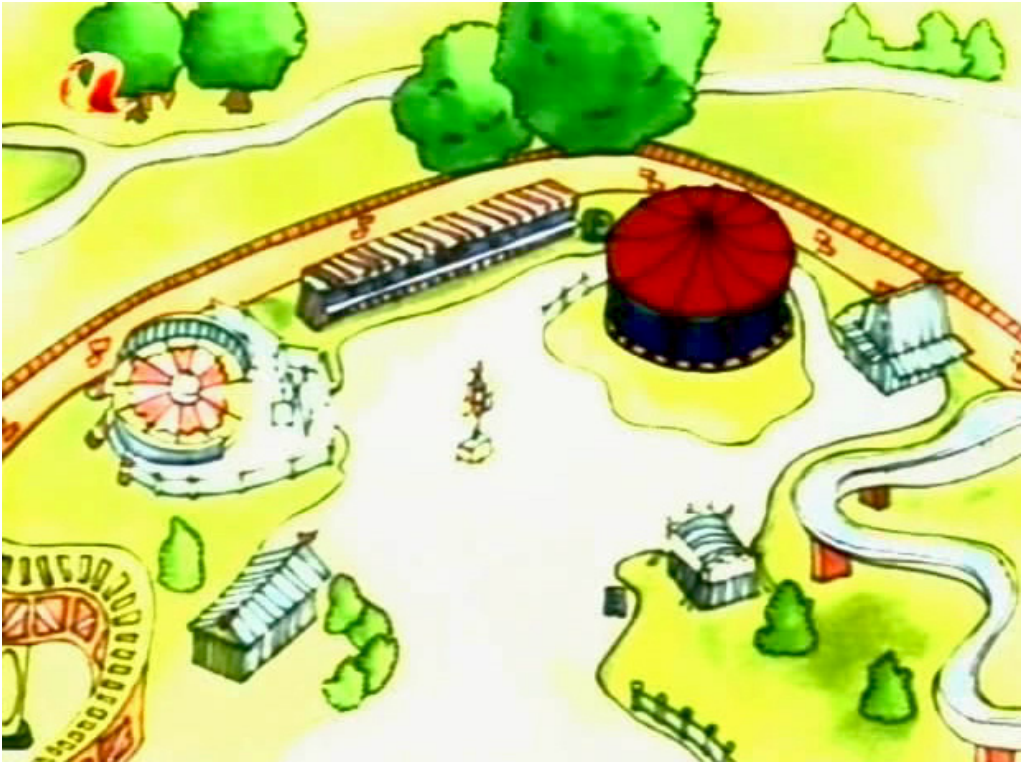

Mommy: Well, I'm not sure cotton candy is really good for you.

Daddy: Does that mean you don't want one?

Caillou: Yeah! Look, Daddy! We're very high up. Look!

Storyteller: Caillou loved riding on the Ferris wheel. From all the way up here, he could see the whole theme park.

Caillou: Daddy, Daddy. Look!

Storyteller: It was the biggest teddy bear Caillou had ever seen. If they could throw all their hoops over a wooden block, maybe they could win the bear. It was a very difficult game for Caillou.

Caillou: It didn't go.

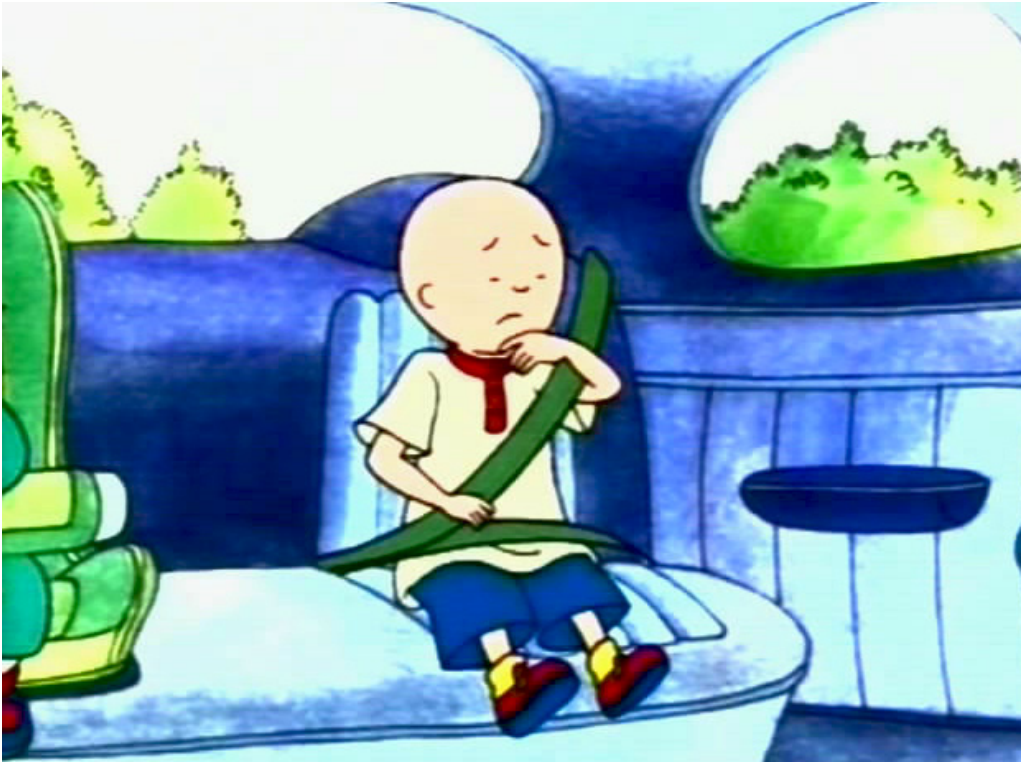

Daddy: It isn't as easy as it looks.

Caillou: Can you do it, Daddy?

Daddy: I'll try my best.

Mommy: Way to go!

Storyteller: Caillou really really hoped his Daddy could make the third hoop fall over the block.

Mommy: Did you enjoy yourself, Caillou?

Caillou: Oh yes, Mommy.

Mommy: What was the best part? Was it the river ride? The Ferris wheel? I know. It was Daddy throwing the hoops and winning the bear, wasn't it?

Caillou: Yes!
